

Hello and welcome to our May & June Newsletter

In this issue of our newsletter, we will recap what has happened in May and let you know what to look forward too in the month of June!

Swap Day

Can you be a Teacher for a Day?

The St. Anthony's Swap Day has come and gone yet again. A day where the students become the teachers and the teachers have a taste of what its like to be a student again.

Students went all out for Swap Day. Making sure they completed their lesson for the day, making sure students were on their best behavior and even had a staff meeting to make sure they were all on the same page about what the school needs.

Anansi Folktales School Tour

The impetus to expose children to rich cultural experiences, improve their literacy and value for the arts has long been a goal of the St. Anthony's College English Department. A sterling opportunity presented itself in the person of Rubadiri Victor in the Season of Anansi Folklore Festival School Tour 2024, sponsored by Republic Bank and Lotus Brand Flour. So, on Friday 24 th May 2024 the St. Anthony's College gym resonated with a chorus of children's voices responding to master storyteller Rubadiri Victor's readings from his book "New Adventures of Anansi". The children were exposed to the history of Anansi stories and vied for prizes during the proceedings.

Students Jeremiah Scotland and Aidan Armorer even tried their hand at acting. And then Anansi and Dragon came alive as actors Khymika Bishop and Carlos Riasco appeared in dazzling costumes. The storytelling and costumes made for a memorable and illuminating experience for teachers and student alike.

Career Day

St Anthony's Career Fair/ Day has come and gone yet again. This years theme was "Unusual Jobs."

This time we strive to introduced the boys to career paths that aren't always talked about or seen. The jobs that they would not normally think out when they think of what career they want to pursue.

We want to open them up to a wider world of career than the few we commonly hear about. The ones we sometimes don't think about. Jobs like a Social Media Influencer, Divers, Nurses, Lawyers, Librarian, Journalist, DJ, etc.

Sometimes it's good to remember the boys don't know what they want to be because they simple haven't found a job they resonates with them. It's our job to help them know, see and be introduced to as many different job fields as we can.

Environment Day

"We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children – Unknown"

This was the quotes used to start out Environment Day Program. The Ministry of Planning and Development held a "Renewable Energy & Energy Efficiency Public Awareness & Education Campaign". This outreach program made its way to St. Anthony's College.

Our form 2 and 3 boys were able to learn about what were the leading causes of Global Warming, the efforts being made to stop/slow it down and what they can do everyday to make an impact as well. One of our students, Malachi Baptiste, also contributed with a spoken Word on 'Environment Conservation'.

They were given the information to change and shape the world. As well as information on various careers in this field of expertise. One fun experience is they were able to view and sit in a which was brought as another way to help save the planet.

We gave a big thanks to the members of Global Climate Change Alliance Plus (GCCA+), Airport Authority and the United Nations who came out to teach and bring awareness to the ever developing climate crisis.

Feast Day

Feast Day has made its mark on St. Anthony's Students. Feast Day celebrates to schools and its patron Saint of the same name. While in past years we would have a mass, we switched thing up this year and made the day about the students. This is because the students are St. Anthony's College. They make they school and deserved to be celebrated as well.

Spare-headed by Ms. K Mark and Ms. Lewis, we were able to have various competition, including a flag and song competition, which would become to official Flag and Song for the school. There was also a poetry and art for the students to show case their talents.
